DETAILED ACTION

Note: this office action is in response to Supplemental Pre. Amendt. 12/22/2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yadav et al. (U.S. 6,391,044).

Note in figures 14 and 15, a collapsible filter (170), a plurality of support frames (169) having engagement segment, which engage to the filter (170), said support frames (169) having proximal and distal mountings (174,172), and wherein said filter (170) having an inlet end sized to allow blood enter the filter body and outlet end sized to retain undesired embolic material within the filter body.

Conclusion

2. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Levinson et al. (U.S. 6,277,138) discloses a filter device captures embolic material.
